

Make a Nature Documentary

We all know that it gets cold in the winter and warmer in the summer but what are the things unique about the seasons of the year? You will make a nature documentary to show people what makes the seasons special.

For this project you will need:

- a camera person
- a director
- one or more presenters

Step-by-Step

1. Go outside into the school grounds and find five things that are unique to this season.

For each item:

2. The director should choose a location to film in front of. For example, in front of some trees.

3. The camera person will hold the camera and record the presenter and the item. Make sure that the presenter is in the middle of the screen.

4. The presenter should face the camera and explain what the item is, and why it is unique to the season. The camera person should record them saying this!

What did you learn?

1. What was your role in making the film?
